HELD ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

KAVANAUGH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH.

A Great Service--Impressive Talks. Greenville Methodist, Past, Present and Future.

The celebration by Kavanagh church Sunday of her fourteenth anniversary will be remembered by all who attended as a great and happy day. The weather was ideal and the program was well carried out with slight variation. Of the former pastors there were present Rev. J. P. Pierce, of McKinney, Rev. W. R. Wages, of Bowie, and of those who were charter and former members W. T. Graham, of Hillsboro, and R. C. Dial, of Clarendon, were present, besides many visitors from Wesley and West Lee Street churches.

Promptly at 10 o'clock the Love Feast began, conducted by R. C. Dial and ran to high water mark. A number of earnest and helpful talks were made and the hour closed with an old fashioned hand shaking amidst hearty God bless you's and amen's.

The choir then took its place and sang sweet hymns No. 215, after which Geo. S. Perkins read the following well prepared and interesting paper on Greenville Methodistism and including first year of Kavanagh's history.

"The M. E. Church, South, was organized in the year 1815, and the republic of Texas was admitted into the Union of States by an act of the Congress dated December 29 of that year. First County, which formed in 1816 of territory carved out of Nacogdoches and Fannin Counties, and the town of Greenville was located at an election held during the month of June of that year.

At a session of the East Texas Annual Conference, which convened at the town of San Augustine, December 8th, 1846, Greenville circuit was read out as one of the appointments in the Charlotte District. Andrew Leavelle, Presiding Elder, Greenville circuit to be supplied. Greenville circuit remained within the bounds of the East Texas Conference until the year 1847, and up to the present time Greenville has been within the bounds of nine districts, viz: Clarksville, Tipton, Greenville, Sherman, Kaufman, Dallas, Sulphur Springs, Terrell and Greenville.

Greenville was made a station in the year 1875, with T. E. Sherwood, Presiding Elder, and Joel Osgood, preacher in charge. It is a fact much to be regretted that the date and place where the first society was organized in Greenville is not known, and that a list of the charter members has not been preserved. Prior to the year 1871, the society had no regular place of worship, but worshipped for some time in a school house on Boardland street, which was located a short distance west from where that street crosses Stonewall street, and a portion of the time in the court house, then located on the public square.

At the beginning of the year 1870 Greenville was a small village containing a population of seven or eight hundred, but had no church house of any description. A subscription paper dated January 3, of that year, was circulated and funds were subscribed to build a church house for the M. E. Church, South. Captain James Farr, who was then a practicing attorney-at-law and a member of the Baptist Church, subscribed to the fund Lot No. 4 in Block No. 7 of the original town plan. On April 30, following, the building committee which had been selected (names not known) to build the church house made a proposition to Fred Ende Lodge No. 87, I. O. O. F., the summer of which was that the church and lodge combine their forces and build a two-story house, the lower story to be owned and used by the church and the upper story to be owned and used by the lodge. The proposition was accepted, and on June 1, the subscribers to the church fund held a meeting in the room then occupied by Fred Ende Lodge, Nathan Anderson, presiding and E. J. Darden acting as secretary. At this meeting the agreement made between the building committee for the church and Fred Ende Lodge was ratified and a committee was appointed with authority to take charge of all funds and to construct a house in accordance with the agreement. The committee selected was composed of the following gentlemen, viz: P. H. W. Spencer, A. Cameron, Fred Ende, James Farr, B. D. Martin, S. E. Scott, W. L. Mayfield, J. C. Gee, and Nathan Anderson, none of whom are now living, except P. H. W. Spencer, who now resides in the State of California.

After the said agreement was ratified, Captain Farr subscribed Lot 2 in Block No. 7 to the fund for building lodge room, and by deed dated June 15, he and his wife, Mrs. Lou Farr, conveyed Lots 4 and 5 to Fred Ende Lodge with the understanding that the contemplated house would be built so that a part of it would stand on Lot 4 and a part of it on Lot 5, and that the lodge would hold the title in trust to the extent of the church's interest. These lots front on what is now Lee Street and the buildings thereon are now occupied by the following parties, namely: Perkins Bros., J. M. Boykin, J. B. Mitchell and Scott and Gibson.

The ... day of ... month, 1870, was a red letter day in the history of Greenville. An immense crowd for those times assembled to witness the laying of the corner stone of the new building. The ritual of the I. O. O. F. was used and Bishop E. M. Marvin delivered the principal address. Some time after the corner stone was laid, Fred Ende Lodge, No. 87, withdrew from the joint undertaking and by resolution dated December 15, 1870, directed that said lots be conveyed to the church trustees, and requested Captain Farr to consent that this be done.

In pursuance of this resolution said lots, with the exception of the east half of lot 5, were conveyed to J. B. Bathrop, G. H. Worsham, K. Harrell,

SHOOTS SELF, LEFT NOTE

CHAS. M. GORDON FATALLY WOUNDS HIMSELF IN DALLAS. Dying Man's Message Directs That Two Persons in Jackson, Miss., Be Told of Shooting.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 24.--Chas. M. Gordon, whose home is evidently at Jackson, Miss., placed the muzzle of a .35-caliber pistol to his temple while in his room at the Newcomb hotel this morning and fired a bullet into his head which resulted in death several hours later. The remains were taken into charge by the Dugan Undertaking company, and the body will be held pending advice from friends or relatives at that place.

That the shooting was a deliberate act and well planned suicide is indicated by preparations made by the man to end his life, before firing the fatal shot into his head. Gordon wrote his name and address on a piece of paper which was lying on the table in his room. He also gave the names of J. D. Gordon and Luther Mansfield, both of Jackson, Miss., with the request that they be notified of his act.

The shot which resulted in death was heard by others in the hotel about 9:20 o'clock. When they rushed into the room Gordon was found lying across the bed with a gaping hole in his forehead from which blood and brains were oozing. The man was unconscious and never spoke a word after shooting himself.

Al. H. (Metz) Wilson. Surrounded by an exceptionally strong cast in "Metz in Ireland," which has proved the great hit of his career, Al. H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian, will be one of the special attractions of the season at the King opera house on November 27th in "Metz in Ireland." The author has first of all written a lasting and laughable comedy, and in the second place provided the most popular of German comedians with a suitable vehicle--an achievement rather difficult to accomplish. Ample opportunity is allowed for the introduction by Mr. Wilson of several new songs that are among the best he has yet composed. Special mention can be made of "My Queen of Dreams," which will rival in popularity any of his past successes.

In providing his star with a production that fills the bill in every detail, Manager Sidney R. Ellis has excelled himself in the handling of the numerous stage pictures which are brightened by the many humorous situations created by Mr. Wilson with his drill German dialect in the pleasing character of "Metz."

TESTIMONY OF TWO BOYS TO THIS EFFECT.

Evidence May Explode Theory That Wife Shot Husband While He Was Asleep.

Waco, Tex., Oct. 24.--Sam Neff, the thirteen year old son of Mrs. Fatsy Neff, and Henry Smith, aged fifteen, were the only witnesses examined on the defense in the case of a woman charged with the murder of her husband.

The boys told a story, which if sustained, explodes the theory that Streight was asleep when shot.

Both witnesses told the warm grating of the state's attorney. The youths declared they were across the street when the shooting and heard screaming in Streight's bedroom.

They said the racket continued up to the moment the shot was fired.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING.

Has J. O. Terrill and Col. Cecil Lyon at the Court House Last Night.

A good crowd assembled at the court house last night to hear speeches by Hon. J. O. Terrill, republican candidate for governor, and Col. Cecil Lyon, national chairman for Texas, and request Judge Graham, a former chairman of Judge Terrill in Kaufman county, introduced the speakers.

Judge Terrill then spoke for nearly two hours. He spoke of the tariff and said it protects American labor and gives American workmen better wages and better living than European labor, and that it keeps American mills and factories in operation. He told how much more the people of Rhode Island make per capita than do the people of Texas, and how lowering of the tariff has always brought ruin and disaster. He then paid his respects to Mr. Colquitt saying that he is the candidate of the nation.

He said the republicans turned down Governor because he was in standard of employ, and contrasted with the treatment John G. Carlisle received from the democrats because he was up to his ears in the pockets of the people of Texas, and how under republican rule the status of Lee and Grant stand side by side in the Capitol at Washington.

Col. Lyon was then introduced and spoke briefly about Colquitt and his friends. The speeches were well received.
